

Perú

Study Abroad

Kathryn Jaeckle, 2023

Lima

December 27 - January 6

📌 Parque de Amor

 Huaca Pucllana

 Ceviche Class

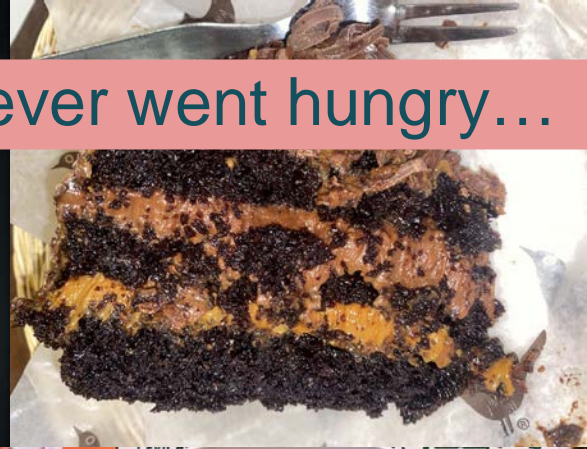

📍 Around the City

📌 We never went hungry...

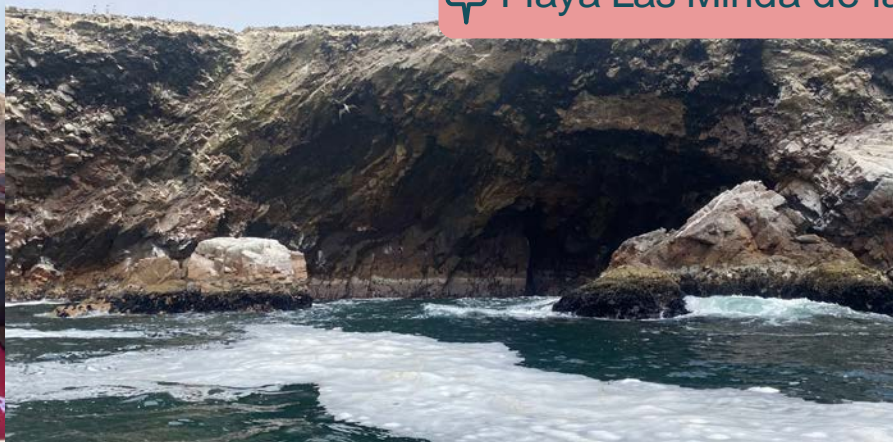

📍 Senor Sulco

Playa Las Minda de la Reserva Nacional de Paracas

 Ica

Cusco

January 7 - January 10

📍 Around the City

📌 Food in Cusco!

Tea for altitude sickness!

Guinea Pig!

Inca Ruins

📌 Cusco Sights

Machu Picchu

 Machu Picchu

Lima

January 11 - January 14

 The Larco Museum

📌 Fun in the sun!

Central

The fourth best restaurant in the world!

 Rosa Nautica

Bye Peru!

Cultural Differences

The currency in Peru is soles; they are a 1:4 exchange rate to US dollars

The style of driving is less organized, but drivers are more forgiving of mistakes

Staring is not considered rude; people hold strong eye contact

Meals are more of a social event

You have to get the waiter's attention to be served; it's considered rude to interrupt your meal

You are expected to tip 10%; the only way to guarantee that the money goes to the server is to leave it on the table

Reflection

This study abroad experience exceeded my wildest dreams. It was life changing to be immersed in another culture; I learned so much about the people and the history of Peru. I learned to be more self-sufficient and grew in confidence of my abilities. I would highly suggest that anyone who has the chance to study abroad take the opportunity, not only to see amazing things in a new place, but to experience personal and professional growth.

THANKS

jaecklekathryn@tamu.edu
(210) 896-1414

CREDITS:

This presentation template was created by Slidesgo, including icons by Flaticon, infographics & images by Freepik

