

This dream I had where I went to Peru

...

Maggie Erickson

The next few slides contain wonderful memories and pictures of my new friends. Although they don't come close to depicting the whole trip, these pictures all have stories behind them that I will remember forever. College Station is a more exciting place now and I look forward to running into all 25 of my new friends.

This trip was truly a dream.

P.S. Thank you to Paco for the music conversations.

church
steps and giant toes

Wandering the steep streets of Cusco and discovering beautiful views. Soon after this, Mary fell down the stairs

God Bless ceviche
and cheap chicken
plates

.5 selfie after the most intense dance class I have ever been too. If you don't believe me, look at Nick's shirt.

.5 selfie while exploring Cusco at 7:30am

Sara being Sara

How in the world
could anyone eat
something so cute!?

The
mountains
around Cusco took my breath
away.
Literally.

This bread was devoured in 2 minutes by 12 people. The bag came in handy soon after when Jake's breakfast decided to make a surprise appearance.

Thanks Peru!

I'll be back:)