

An aerial photograph of the ancient Inca city of Machu Picchu, Peru. The ruins are built on a steep mountain slope, featuring stone walls, terraces, and courtyards. The surrounding landscape is lush and green, with misty clouds hanging in the air. The text "Peru Study Abroad" is overlaid in large white letters, and "WINTERMESTER 2024" is overlaid in smaller white letters below it.

My Reflection

- I loved my time in Peru! It was a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity, and I am so glad I took it. I learned about ArcGIS Pro while also learning about the culture and history of Peru. I also got to cross off a few things from my bucket list (Visiting Machu Picchu, Sandboarding, and Paragliding). I went into the program only knowing one person in the group and I left with 24 new friends. I loved every second of the two-week trip. I might even say it was too short! I will return to Peru one day to explore more of this amazing country. Thank you, Paco, for showing us your hometown and how beautiful Peru is.
