

Location: Lima

I loved just walking around to get a sense of how life was in this area of the city

The most beautiful creatures were everywhere

The Historical district felt like
I was walking through Europe

And I experienced
my first cathedral

The beach had beautiful skies

Location:
Paracas

Wild penguin,

Sea lions,

Gorgeous rocks,

Gorgeous water

Location:
Huacachina

Sand is so pretty

Made me feel like I was truly experiencing life

Location: Cusco

Held an alpaca

Also ate alpaca (and guinea pig)

Went to Quechuan mass

Art was everywhere

So were the cutest strays

Location: Inca Sites

Saqsaywaman, Sacred Valley, Ollantaytambo

It's not just rocks

It's remarkable engineering

And it's beautiful

Location: Machu Picchu

More mountains

More rocks

More beauty

More history

I've never traveled much (haven't even been to dallas), and I always said I wanted to.

However, this was my first chance actually doing it, and it reaffirmed that I did want to continue to travel and have these experiences.

I didn't know anyone going on the trip and was worried everyone would already know each other, but I couldn't have asked for a better group to experience all of this with or a better professor to have during this or a better country to have been in.
